A BRIEF HISTORY OF THE COLORADO GOOD SAMs

Colorado Good Sams had its beginning in 1968 when the first State Director, Bill Ross of Montrose helped form the first Chapter in Colorado, the Western Colorado Travelers; on the western slope of Colorado.

During the winter of 1969-1970, another Chapter was formed on the eastern slope. They were the Ramblin' Sams in the Denver area.

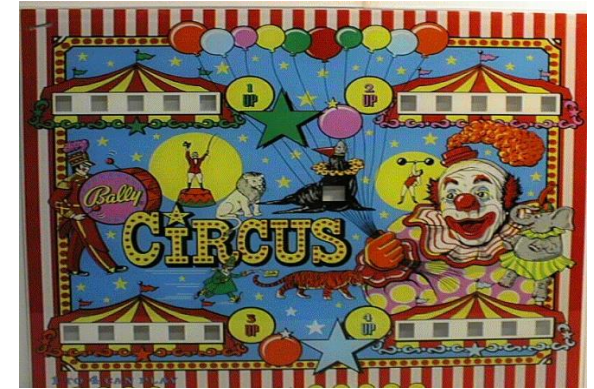

Colorado hosted the National Rally the summer of 1970 at Nathrop, Colorado. There were 327 Good Sam members from 28 states in attendance. Art Rouse, the father of the Good Sam Club as we know it today, was present at this rally. By 1971 there were five Chapters in the state. 1972 brought continued growth for the Colorado Good Sams, with seven Chapters joining the fold. The first State Director, Bill Ross, stepped down in 1972 and Ira Lolmaugh of Montrose took over as the second State Director. In 1974, Ken Tompkins became the third Colorado State Director. In 1973 & 1974 three more Chapters were formed. Jerry Mathews became the fourth Colorado State Director. Chapter growth continued and Dick Michael became the fifth State Director. By 1975, there were 21 Chapters in Colorado. Robert Owston in 1986, Bill Dewar in 1993, Sharla Hayward in 1998, Al Allain in 2004, Orbin Hall Jr in 2014 and Rick Smith was elected in 2020 and is the current Director. 2020 was a hard year for all of the states and Colorado was not excluded with the COVID-19 pandemic. Colorado had 12 chapter at the beginning of 2020 and today, there are currently 8 Chapters in Colorado and there are many more that came and went in between.

In 1974, The Colorado "Fudd Ducker's Caravan" was formed after a trip to California. Later in the year, they took a trip to Salina, KS on the first official "Fudd Ducker" trip.
